

One of the penalties of being a dog-owner is having to hear stories from other owners of choice hounds, like, for instance, the tale Comer Boyett told me at the post office. Comer's dog found a feather-duster in the garage the other day, took it out in the yard to play with — and when he was through he put it back in the garage like a good little man. That's what the movies call strictly coincidental — a one-dollar word meaning "by accident."

What'd I tell you about the weather for Tuesday's Election Party? Sure enough, we opened in a downpour of rain. But there was no wind. Folks dried off, gathered around to the tune of 3,000 or more — and the party went on. We wrapped it up around 2 o'clock in the morning, with 210,000 votes counted in the governor's race, with Hempstead county complete, and with a pretty good idea about how things stood in the district races for prosecutor, chancellor, and congress.

Now that McMath's won a smashing victory over Laney some of the armchair political writers up North will read into it a deep significance — and they'll be wrong, as men are usually wrong when they write learnedly about domestic political events a thousand miles away. Some of yesterday's vote was pro-McMath, of course, but a whole lot of it was anti-Laney. The failure of Laney to maintain some semblance of maintenance on U. S. Highway 67 when he was governor hurt him permanently through this election. He failed to carry Hempstead county when running for his own second term, and so it was unreasonable to expect him to do anything against McMath in the latter's re-election bid. These are the issues politics is made of — not the grand and wordy schemes men manufacture and give a name to a thousand miles away.

Reds Shield Advance With Civilians

By Don Whitehead

An Advanced U. S. Command Post in Korea, July 26 — (AP) — A U. S. office said today North Koreans held several hundred Korean men, women and children before them in this morning's attack around Yongdong.

The non-combatants were used as a shield for four tanks to cross a bridge, said Maj. William O. Witherspoon, 549 Grand Ave., South San Francisco.

The Americans waded their fire and the tanks got into positions for attack.

This is the way Witherspoon described the fighting, in which the Americans fell back east of Yongdong. The withdrawal was orderly and casualties were reported not heavy.

The Reds also hit the right side, but were thrown back with heavy losses. Planes and ground troops knocked out six of eight enemy tanks.

Then the commanding general decided to regroup the U. S. forces last night a few hundred yards east of the line to give the defenders better positions.

But the enemy again struck the American right flank at 5 p. m. and fought on after dark in the first night attack of the war. There was a little enemy artillery fire. The infantry then came swarming through the mountains around the flanks of the unit.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning the North Koreans attacked the American left flank which was in the process of drawing back.

The major said this was the drive led by four tanks herding the non-combatants before them. The bridge had been mined by the Americans and they would have blown it up otherwise.

"The Americans just couldn't open fire on those women and children, Witherspoon said.

This gave the tanks a chance to come in close and open direct fire on the American positions.

Fortunately, the Americans began late yesterday pulling their artillery back and getting heavy equipment toward the rear.

This foresight undoubtedly saved the artillery. It prevented a road jam which would have been caught in crossfire of infiltrating Communists.

The atomic research city of Los Alamos, New Mexico, now has a population of around 1,000, though it was founded only in 1942.

U.S. Infantry Reported to Have Recaptured Hadong, Slowing Reds

By The Associated Press

British to Send Troops to Korea

London, July 26 (AP) — Britain announced today she has decided to send ground troops into Korea. The British admiralty earlier disclosed plans to put the Far Eastern fleet on a "full scale war footing immediately."

The decision to back up American GIs in Korea with British soldiers was made public by Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell in the house of commons.

"The government today notified the United Nations we are prepared to send to Korea an effective land reinforcement, including infantry, armor, artillery and engineers, together with the administrative backing required to maintain it."

The commonwealth nations of Australia and New Zealand had made similar announcements, following the lead of Turkey and Thailand (Siam).

These were to answer a United Nations appeal for soldiers to help beat off the Communist invasion of South Korea.

Says Reds Are Killing Prisoners

By HAL BOYLE

An Advance Airbase in Korea, July 26 — (AP) — A tall young tank corporal said today North Koreans forced him and two other bound American prisoners to lie face down under a tree and then machinegunned them.

"I was the only one to escape alive, grimly said the corporal, a 21-year-old Irishman from the Bronx, N. Y. "A flight of our fighter planes frightened them off before they found out I wasn't dead."

The slender, brown-haired gunner, suffering from three bullet wounds in his left shoulder, told his story as he lay on a cot here.

Tokyo, July 6 — (AP) — Hadong, only 70 miles from Pusan, was reported recaptured by American infantrymen today.

A fifth air force spokesman at headquarters in Korea said the Red-seized city in the South was subjected to vigorous assault by American infantrymen and planes. The city was reported ablaze.

He said carrier launched planes attacked the central front.

The unconfirmed report of the city's recapture might be the first step by United Nations force to plug the gap in their shrinking defense perimeter in southeast Korea.

The Reds put the squeeze on the 24th United Nations front elsewhere today.

Besides seizing Hadong — which they may have since lost — they pushed the U. S. First Cavalry further away from Yongdong, threatened Pusan, vital U. S. southeastern base, and gathered strength for a running fight down the road to Kunchon from Yongdong. Yongdong was lost in the biggest round action of the war.

Despite these reversals, which drew some pessimistic comment from the war front in Korea, a spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters said the battle lines around Yongdong have "stabilized considerably."

He added confidently: New American strength — which includes an army and a marine division, enroute from the United States — assures the Korean "beachhead can be held."

In sharp contrast to this headquarters statement, Associated Press Correspondent Leif Erickson at U. S. Eighth army headquarters in Korea said the rosy American optimism of last week was sorely misplaced.

Erickson said the United Nations forces are running out of space in which to hold while they wait for reinforcements.

MacArthur's spokesman asserted a "continuous line" had been established. But he alluded only to the short central sector around Yongdong — placing the battle line from Yongju in the northeast to near Yongdong.

He glossed over the fact that the whole left flank in the southwest has been circled by North Korean forces. He termed them insignificant and unimportant. Yet these tank led forces forged farther east toward Pusan by the hour, at

One Killed in Accident Near Hope

Oscar Wylie, aged 20, a deaf mute, died early today from injuries suffered late yesterday when the automobile which he was driving left the pavement and swerved into another when he tried to cut it back onto the highway. The accident occurred about 5:30 p. m. 8 miles west on Highway 67.

His brother, Ralf Wylie 15, was released from the hospital today after treatment for head and chest injuries.

Occupants of the second car, driven by B. H. King, negro, of St. Louis, were unhurt.

Wylie, a resident of Prescott, worked for the Camden News at Camden, Arkansas. He suffered a severe head injury and little hope was held by attending physicians from the outset. He died about 5 a. m. nearly 12 hours after the accident.

Investigating officers were Sgt. Mosier and Downing of the state police and Johnson of the city police. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

Scottish Rite Masons to Meet Thursday

Scottish Rite Masons Southwest Arkansas will have a supper meeting Thursday night for thirty-second degree Masons and candidates. Approximately 30 members from Little Rock, headed by C. Eugene Smith, will attend.

Incumbent Joe Jones is the probable winner in the single city alderman race. With the Ward 1 count unavailable the vote was: Ray Allen 391, Ray Turner 355 and Joe Jones 869.

Livestock Show to Be Held in September

The time is drawing close to Fair Week. The Third District Livestock Show, scheduled to be held this year the last week of September, from all indications will be the largest and most successful district show ever held in the state of Arkansas. The success of this economic and educational institution rests with the attracting of large crowds throughout the week.

In the past the brunt of publicizing this fair and spreading good will throughout the district has been borne by the Hempstead clubbers, horsemen and citizens interested in both a good time and in assisting Hope to adequately fulfill its role as hostess city. Membership in this organization is not limited and all persons still possessing part of the pioneer spirit which founded this country are eligible to join.

This year the Roundup Club is under the command of its president, Ben McRae, for the purpose of formulating a publicity program for this year and in mapping out tentative good will tours. All roundup club members and others interested are asked to meet tonight at the arena at 7:30 p. m. A good time is promised to those attending. Members owning horses are asked to bring them and ride in the arena with the assurance that this year rain will be unable to dampen the enthusiasm of Roundup Club members.

Members of at least one group to present day Indians in New Mexico are descendants of the cliff dwellers who lived in what is now Bandelier National Monument.

Harris Wins; Runoffs in 2 District Races

In three district races only one escaped without a runoff — Congressman Oren Harris had a clear majority over two opponents Vernon Whitten and T. C. Short.

For prosecuting attorney in 8th judicial district, G. W. Lookadoo of Arkadelphia led the ticket with 6,076 votes, Charles Hackett was second with 5,184, Talbot Field Jr. Polled 4,890, and Patton 5,014. Only three precincts were out in the entire district. This unofficial total indicates a runoff between Lookadoo and Hackett.

In the 2nd division 6th Chancery District, James Pilkinton of Hope was assured a runoff post by leading the ticket with 12,824 votes with 4 precincts out in the entire district. His opponent is a tossup between J. E. Still with 9,989 and Byron Goodson with 8,864. The four missing precincts are said to have 200 votes.

Governor McMath's law partner was an uphill battle in his bid for renomination as judge of Arkansas 18th judicial circuit.

Unofficial returns from 24 of the 27 precincts in the 18th circuit, Montgomery county circuit, Tuesday's Democratic preferential primary showed Judge Clyde H. Brown running second to Curtis Ridgway, former prosecuting attorney of the circuit. The two will tangle in the Aug. 8 runoff primary.

The latest tabulation of the vote was: Ridgway 4,776; Brown 4,273; John D. Hoskins 555; Pat J. Lyons 149. All are Hot Springs attorneys.

Brown first was elected 15 years ago, when he was 34. He has since won the office four years ago, when he was 41. He was elected to the office of circuit judge in 1924.

McMath and others led a GI ticket to victory over candidates headed by former Hot Springs Mayor and Political Leader Lee P. McLaughlin. Ridgway was beaten by McMath in the prosecutors race that year.

The most decisive vote in a race for circuit judge unseated S. Marcus Bane of Batesville, who has presided on the Third Circuit bench for 24 years. The victor

Truman Asks Nation to Sacrifice

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, July 6 (AP)—President Truman today summoned the nation to "some sacrifice of its civilian plenty. He declared himself ready to call for "complete economic mobilization if the defense of freedom requires."
Mr. Truman told congress, in his midyear economic message, that price ceilings, rationing and "serious shortages can be avoided if congress quickly gives him limited control powers and a $5,000,000,000 tax increase.
But he warned: "We must realize that the engagement in Korea will be costly and may not be short. We must prepare against the possibility that new crises may arise elsewhere.

That hazard means, the President said, that industrial output must be stepped up—possibly by a rate of $10,000,000,000 annually before January 1—and that basic industry itself must be expanded by federal loans and guarantees.
"We cannot afford longer to risk the possibility of future desperate shortages of some of the most essential requirements for our national security," Mr. Truman said.
He did not name steel specifically as one of the industries critically needing expansion. But it headed his list of "scarcity materials, despite capacity operation since April.

Safety from further Communist aggression depends, Mr. Truman said, on "production and more production, and safety from inflation depends on business and consumers alike refraining from "hoarding and avarice.

DOROTHY DIX Self-Sacrifice

Dear Miss Dix: In a recent check-up of myself I find I am what is known as a "giver." I am friendly, remember birthdays of friends and relatives, yet my own passes unheeded. I write letters people love to receive, yet my sorrows and joys are borne in gruesome loneliness. I speak kindly and loyally of all I know, yet unkind and hurting criticisms are my lot. I am so disgusted with living because I seem utterly to cultivate selfishness as a virtue. My only consolation is the fact that I am only 22 and still can change, but how does one strike a happy medium?

M. R. K.

Answer: I suppose the only workable suggestion would be for you to reverse the Golden Rule and do unto others as they do unto you. The only trouble in pursuing this line of conduct is that it will hurt you a hundred times more than it will those to whom you apply it. For a generous nature loves to give and finds far more happiness in giving than in receiving. A loving heart overflows with tenderness that it must expend on those about it, and an unselfish nature gets an exquisite joy in sacrificing its own pleasures to those near and dear to it and making life easier for them.

Shows Laziness
Unselfishness is exploited as a virtue, but it is, in reality, generally just a manifestation of weakness, laziness and lack of backbone. A wife thinks she is unselfish to her husband when she gives in to all of his whims and lets him inflict petty tyrannies upon her and ride roughshod over her, but it is because she lacks the nerve to stand up and fight him and force him to treat her properly. The woman who makes of herself a doormat for her children thinks she is an unselfish mother when she spoils them to death and makes them little hellions, but it is because it is easier to give into them than it is to make them behave themselves.

Because this is a selfish world we have scant respect for those who lack courage to stand up for their own rights and who let us impose upon them. It is never the enslaved wife or husband who is the adored one. It is never the mother who looks like a human ragbag while her daughters are daily hints from Paris, whose children look up to her. Visiting relatives think more of being asked to Cousin Sophronia's to tea than they do out of grating a three weeks' hotel bill off Aunt Emma. Nobody loves the family goat or makes a pet of it.

So you are a wise young woman to realize at 22 that you have the self-sacrifice complex, because you have time to modify it. And this I advise you to do both for your sake and the sakes of those about you. There is neither dignity nor virtue in being an easy mark.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a man and am losing all my love for my wife because she is so untidy. She believes there is some other woman, but there is not. It is her own slovenliness, her own aversion to soap and water. When I married her she was a cute little blonde with beautifully curled hair, but now her face needs washing, her hair needs a shampoo, a combing, her clothes need to go to the cleaners, her shoes need their heels straightened, and if I dare suggest that she looks as if she needed to be run through the laundry she says that there are other things she would rather spend money on. She says she cannot darn stockings or fix a ripped hem. She is a sweet little girl and could be very attractive if only she was neat. In the mean time we are getting nothing out of cleanliness, for I am ashamed to be seen out with her. She has all the time in the world and nothing to do, as we live in a hotel. What must I do?

DESPAIRING HUSBAND
Answer: I don't know unless you turn the hose on her. For untidy people seem to be wedded to their dirt and no persuasion makes them part with it.
I don't blame you for being disgusted with your wife, for nothing gusted with your wife, for nothing in the world is more repulsive than a slovenly woman. She shows that she lacks self-respect, for that would make her try to present as good an appearance as possible before the world and it would make her take care of her person and her clothes.

The only explanation is laziness. She is too lazy even to take a bath or get somebody else to clean her.

South Korean forces on the northern front. It is a key point. The Yongdong battle was the firmest American stand since the Kum river. Doughboys pulled out all their artillery and heavy equipment despite fierce sustained Red pressure.

The Red Koreans have succeeded surprisingly well in rolling equipment into position at night for new attacks.
They give little time for breathers.

Increasing night search sorties by fifth air force planes may slow down the next Red buildup. Eight F-80 shooting star jets Tuesday night flew 23 missions and strafed one Red motor column moving with lights ablaze.

An air force spokesman said it would be difficult to assess results but at least will make them move with their lights out and that will be much clumsier for their motor convoys.

clothes and against that sort of slothfulness a man beats himself in vain. Nothing can change or alter it not even the knowledge that she is losing her husband for that most shameful of all reasons — because she is dirty. What a pity!

Dear Dorothy Dix: Does a man whom a child or a dog takes to make a kinder husband than one whom children and dogs dislike?

F. P. B.

Answer: If there is any scientific data on this subject I have never seen it. But there is a lot of truth in most old saws and the general belief that children and dogs are intuitive judges of the kindly or harsh natures of people must be founded on the observation of generations who have noticed the reactions of babies and dumb animals to certain types of individuals.

However I certainly would not advise a woman to marry a man who did not like children because he would be likely to make a hard father and one who always brances and brats. I might regard his children as encumbrances and brats.

Russell Long Is Winner in Louisiana

New Orleans, July 26 (AP)— Sen. Russell Long has won overwhelmingly a full term in the United States senate.

His principal opponent, Malcolm Lafargue, Shreveport attorney backed by a major coalition of anti-Long political forces, conceded defeat last night less than two hours after the last polls closed in Louisiana's senatorial Democratic primary.

When votes from 1,760 of the states 2,092 precincts had been tabulated unofficially, Long had secured 74,746 for himself and 37,746 for Lafargue. Success in the Senate may mean election to the 31-year-old senator every parish (county) that was Plaquemine, of Leander Perez, National for of the state rights committee. Perez, affiliated with Long as a southern states' lobbyist, turned in the official count. But he bowed over the anti-Long stronghold of the city of New Orleans. Deleseppe S. Morrison, a long ago on an anti-Long ticket, pained for Lafargue.

Barons Are Moving Up on Atlanta

By The Associated Press
 Birmingham is creeping up on Atlanta, the Southern association leader, again.

The Barons blasted Memphis, 12 to 8, Tuesday night while Atlanta was rained out at Little Rock and pulled to within four games of the Cracker.

Memphis' Leo Goicoechea hit Baron first baseman Norm Zauchin hard on the kneecap with a fast ball in the fourth inning. But that didn't hamper the Barons. Zauchin's sub, Bob DiPietro, hit a three-run homer to help decide the issue.

Mobile completely got even for losing two games to Chattanooga Monday night by whipping the Lookouts twice, 6-0 and 6-1.

Mobile's Pete Wojey pitched a great three-hitter in the first game. He fanned eight. John Hall scattered nine-hits in winning the nightcap.

Bobo Newsom was the losing pitcher in the late game for the 14th time this season. Bobo, who has been in professional baseball since near the middle of the golden twenties, has won nine.

New Orleans scored nine times in the sixth and seventh and that was plenty to sink Nashville, 10-4. However, six more New Orleans runs which won't show on the scoreboard crossed the plate in the top of the eighth. Rain reverted the score to the end of the seventh.

Wednesday night's games: Atlanta at Little Rock (2); Mobile at Chattanooga (2); Birmingham at Memphis; New Orleans at Nashville.

Cleveland Seems to Be Stronger

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Cleveland's rampaging Indians, looking more menacing each day, loom as the real "dark horse" in the jumbled American league pennant race.

No club in the league — and that includes the pace-setting Detroit Tigers and runner-up New York Yankees — has looked better than Lou Boudreau's men, who have run up 12 triumphs in their last 16 games.

Whereas three weeks ago, the Indians trailed the Tigers by seven full games, they are only two and a half games out today. Thanks to a 7-6 triumph over Philadelphia last night while both the Tigers and Yankees were losing, the Indians find themselves in the best position they've been in all year.

True, they still are in third place, one length back of the Yankees and three in front of the Boston Red Sox, but they are in good shape to make a whole of a battle out of it the rest of the way. They own three top flight pitchers in Bob Lemon, Bob Feller and Early Wynn. And in rookies Al Rosen and Luke Easter, they possess two of the top sluggers in the game.

Cleveland's biggest asset is the schedule. Not only is the Tribe currently facing a long home stand, but the three closing weeks of the season will find the Indians playing at home in 12 of the last 14 games. Should they remain anywhere near the top in the next few weeks, they will be mighty difficult to stop.

Feller was the winner yesterday although he needed help from Lemon in the ninth. It was Feller's 10th triumph of the year. He got a big lift from Easter, who smashed his 18th and 19th homers off loser Alex Kellner.

The Red Sox won a 7-6 nip-and-tuck affair from Detroit, scoring three runs in the eighth off Relief Pitcher Hal White to overcome a 6-4 deficit. Three runs in each of the eighth and ninth innings had dropped the Tigers to overtaken an early 4-0 Boston lead. Each club used four pitchers, with Chuck Stobbs the winner and White the loser.

Stubby Overmire pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 victory over the Yankees. The lefthander, who holds two of three Brownie wins over New York, had a three-hit shutout until the ninth. Four hits, including a two-run homer by Johnny Mize, gave the Yankees three runs. Overmire batted in what proved to be the winning runs with a two-run single off Vic Raschi in the fifth.

Fine relief pitching by Joe Haynes and strong slickwork by Sam Mele and Gil Coan helped Washington triumph over the Chicago White Sox, 7-4.

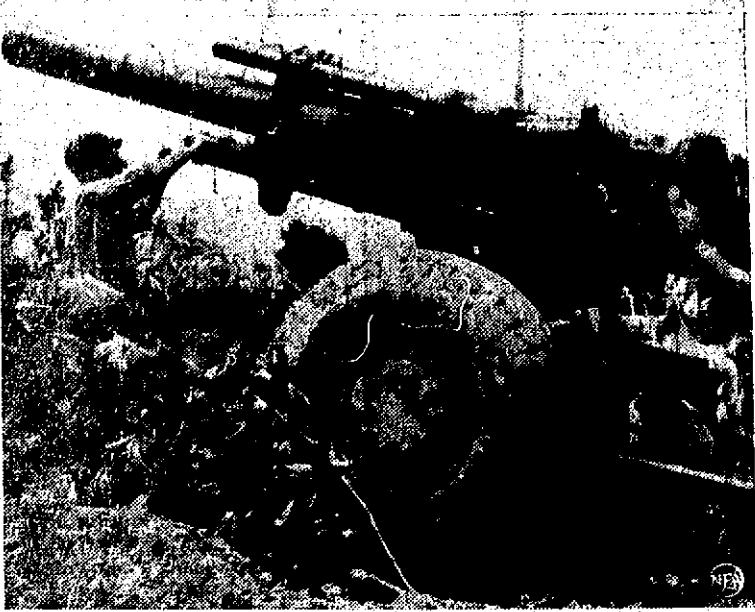

Philadelphia's Phillies moved back to the top of the National league by handing the Chicago Cubs two shutout defeats, 7-0 and 1-0. Bubba Church hurled a three-hitter in the opener and Robin Roberts followed with a six-hitter. It was the latter's 12th triumph. Johnny Klippstein and Bob Rush were the victims.

The Cubs now have suffered through three straight shutouts. They were beaten, 3-0, in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader with the New York Giants.

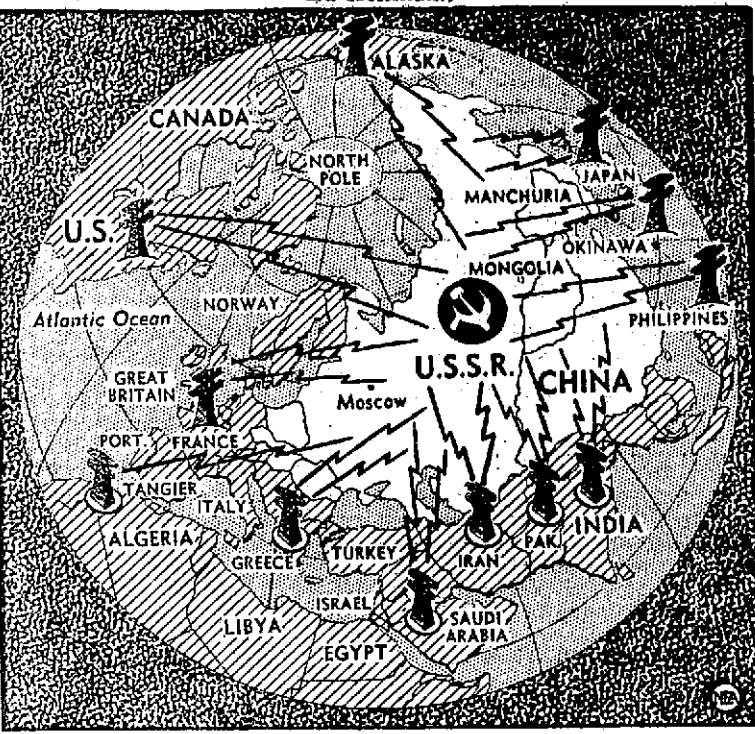

The Phils' double win put them a half game in front of the St. Louis Cardinals, who whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-5. The Boston Braves moved into the third spot, two and a half games off the pace, by thrashing the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-2, as Johnny Sain notched his 15th success of the season.

A five-run eighth inning and another tally in the ninth on Bob Usher's error gave the Giants a 7-6 triumph over Cincinnati.

LOUD SPEAKERS—A $200,000,000 ring of American radio stations to encircle the U. S. S. R. and its satellite nations is being considered by Congress, following its recommendation by Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA. Map shows how programs, telling the American story, would be beamed into the Iron Curtain countries. General Sarnoff estimated that the $200,000,000 initial cost would be about the price of two battleships and that maintenance would run about $50,000,000 a year.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT
 (For Hugh Fullerton Jr.)

New York, July 26 (AP) — Alrick Man, Jr., first gasped "you're fooling," and then, after a moment's painful reflection, muttered "it's simply unbelievable."

Man is the non-playing captain of Uncle Sam's Davis cup tennis team, and he just had received a nasty shock in the form of news that Herbie Flam, a coast youth, had given Ted Schroeder an unmerciful pasting in the final of the Clay court championship at Chicago.

Only a few minutes before, in discussing prospects for the team which will defend the cup—doubtless against Australia again — toward the end of August, Man had expressed his fullest confidence that Schroeder was playing himself into form and would be ready for the big test.

"I understand," he had said, "that Ted is feeling much better and is playing close to his best tennis again. That's the best news I've had lately."

And then the bombshell — Schroeder polished off in 50 minutes flat by the intercollegiate champion, Flam, who almost certainly has never entered Man's thoughts as a possible member of the team which will face the Aussies.

"Of course," Man finally said, somewhat weakly, "Flam's game is better adapted to clay than Ted's is. Ted has always been at his best on the faster grass courts. But, still, that doesn't explain his winning only five games from Flam in three sets."

Indeed, it does not. Nor does it mean anything except that the U. S. Davis cup forces are in the most precarious position they have been in since they were defeated by the Australians in the 1930 challenge round. If we keep the cup this time it really will be a wonder.

Last year man's choice of a team was extremely simple. There was Pancho Gonzales to win two single matches and Schroeder to win the other two, and it didn't matter at all that Billy Talbert and Gardner Mulloy were beaten in a titanic double encounter by Billy Sidwell and John Bromwich.

But look what the past 11 months have done. Gonzales is a professional. Schroeder, it seems plain now, finds it difficult as he nears the 30-year mark to whip himself into championship form on a few weeks notice after having devoted himself to his regular run with two mates aboard, the Phils were an easy victor in the opener. They had to wait until two were out in the last of the ninth to win the second game. Richie Ashburn took care of that, lashing a single to center to score Ralph Caballero from second.

El Rice's three-run homer highlighted a four-run eighth inning which enabled the Cards to overcome a 5-3 Dodger lead. It marked the first St. Louis win in Ebbets Field this year.

The Cards' Stan Musial cracked a home run, double and single to extend his consecutive hitting streak through 29 games.

Coggins May Have Figured the Right Way

By The Associated Press

Maybe Cliff Coggin was right. A week ago the former Mississippi southern collegiate athletic star left his baseball job with the Monroe Sports to report to the Los Angeles Rams professional football team, with which he figured to be a pass-snagging end.

But, while flying west, Coggin changed his mind. He turned around and returned to the sports explaining that he had decided he had a better future in baseball than in football.

Tuesday night Coggin pitched his 13th Cotton States league victory against five defeats and his second triumph since choosing between his two favorite sports. With Big Cliff yielding only seven hits, Monroe dumped the fading Hot Springs Bathers, 8 to 4.

The loss knocked the Bathers, who a few weeks ago were threatening league-leading Pine Bluff, out of a third-place tie with Natchez. Rain forced postponement of the scheduled Pine Bluff at Natchez doubleheader.

Stellar pitching was the order of the night at Greenwood, Dick Spady limiting El Dorado's Ollers to three safeties as the Dodgers posted a 4-0 shutout.

The other tilt, however, was a 20-hit slugfest, with Clarksdale clipping Greenville, 17 to 14. It was sixth-place Clarksdale's fifth straight win. Each team got 15 hits.

Wednesday night's games: Hot Springs at Monroe. Pine Bluff at Natchez (2). El Dorado at Greenwood. Greenville at Clarksdale.

spotlight by winning the Wimbledon crown. Flam is there, too, and Dick Savitt, the Cornell star who has swept through a string of eastern tournaments in recent weeks.

He describes Patty as being "very much in the picture," and beginning now he also will have to make more than a casual inspection of Flam. Even Talbert and Mulloy, the old doubles experts, will gain new consideration as cup singles players if Schroeder falls down. Man is making strong efforts to induce Tom Brown, now a rising young barister, to come on from San Francisco and try out for the team.

As of now it appears fairly certain only that Patty will be one of the singles nominees if he retains his Wimbledon form. As for the probable doubles team, Man can't make even a good guess at this point.

Most of New Taxes to Go for Weapons

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Around 60 cents of each of the ten and a half billion dollars the military wants congress to provide for present fighting and future rearmament would be used to buy weapons — guns, bombs, planes, ships and tanks.

Before the Korean war revealed inadequacies in amounts and types of weapons, the peacetime dollar bill for this purpose averaged about 18 cents.

The 18-cent figure is part of a regular annual spending program, while the 60-cent plan is included in a supplemental request added to estimates for the current fiscal year and dictated by the emergency of war.

But the comparison between the two is an index of how values change in military programs between peace and war years. It shows that many of the things the military does or is required to do in peacetime can be pared away to save more "hardware" when the crisis is down.

However, Pentagon officials say, substantial amounts of the funds provided in the years between World War II and the Korean War were spent for purposes directly adding the ability to fight now. Included are outlays for building up the national guard and reserves, for industrial mobilization, for maintenance of equipment, for the pay and subsistence of the men in the armed forces, for research and development, and other materials which would be needed in time of war.

Also, there were big slices of the approximately 395,000,000,000 congress provided to insure our defense during the past four years that went to settle business of the last war.

It cost about $42,000,000,000 to demobilize, to hurry men home from abroad and from camps in the United States, leaving vast amounts of equipment right where the shooting stopped.

Statistics made available at the Pentagon do not show the outlay over the last four years for occupation in Germany and Japan, but they have mounted into the hundreds of millions.

A portion of this was purely for defensive purposes, to prevent a resurging of a beaten enemy. But another big portion was chargeable to the ordinary business of running a temporary government in the occupied lands.

FUNNY FACE

By James Gunn

Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Lanning and Ellie Lane, theatrical friends of mine, were married more than 22 years ago and made a hit in a vaudeville comedy dance team. Their success was due to Ellie's natural instinct for comedy and Jack's handsome, which served as a back-drop for her capers. But Ellie seemed almost to shudder every time Jack called her his pet name "Funny Face," and soon I observed a strange tension between them. I knew the reason. Ellie had told me once that she believed she was the plain looking even wife of a very handsome man. "I couldn't convince her otherwise," I said. "Someday," he told me, "Jack will realize what he's stuck with."

LATER, when Ellie and I were alone, she was nervous and silent. We talked about the act, and she said harshly, "I made up my mind that if they were going to laugh at me, they might as well think I wanted them to. If I'm stuck with this face I might as well get some good out of it at least."

She was intensely bitter. I had never heard her talk like that before. She went on: "It's no joke thinking up the kind of stuff we do. And of course Jack's as much help as a hole in the head. Give him a party and a pretty girl and he's the wit of the world, but on the stage he has as much sense of comedy as the Little Match Girl. "But there's still no reason I should take it out on Jack. It's not his fault that he's good looking and the girls that he's popular with people and I sit in a corner. None of it's his fault. I just wish he understood a little more. He thinks I love making an ass of myself on stage; he thinks I'm happy as a clam. I asked him once not to joke about my looks in front of other people. I've never seen anybody so surprised. He was so hurt I couldn't be too hard on him. He still calls me 'Funny Face,' and every time I hear it I want to kill him and shoot myself."

Morse Also Against McCarthy

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Senator Morse (R-Ore.) said today with Senate Democrats who continued that Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) has failed so far to prove his Communist - in - government charges.

Breaking ranks with many of his GOP colleagues on the issue, Morse expressed his views to reporters after:

1. Senate developments brought out that the "Mr. X of the state department who McCarthy accused of being a Communist is Edward G. Posniak.

2. Posniak, a 39-year-old economist who was born in Moscow, flatly denied that he ever has been a Communist. He called McCarthy's accusation "vicious and libelous and declared he is "completely loyal to the United States and completely opposed to communism."

3. Rep. Velde (R-Ill) said he will urge the house un-American activities committee to investigate the Posniak case, as McCarthy proposed. Velde, a member of the committee, added that he will ask that Posniak be summoned to testify.

Morse, often at odds with the majority of senate Republicans, declined to say whether he feels that McCarthy's charges are "a fraud and a hoax — the conclusion reached by the Democratic members of a senate foreign relations subcommittee which investigated the charges."

"But I am still waiting for the proof of the charges," Morse said. He noted that a minority report by Senator Lodge (R-Mass) called the inquiry superficial and inconclusive, and that Lodge also said that in certain specific cases no proof of McCarthy's accusations had been produced. Lodge did not know he was in town. The moment I saw him I knew something was very wrong. He looked desperate and lost. "Where's Ellie?" I asked.

"In Reno, getting a divorce."

I was shocked. He had obviously taken it very hard. He was completely bewildered. "I don't know what happened. Everything was going along fine. She was sort of moody now and then, and she'd hardly go out at all. But she seemed to be all right most of the time. We hadn't quarreled or anything. And then one day she just said she was leaving. She said she had to, and that was all."

"Couldn't you make her talk to you?"

"I tried. She said she still loved me, it wasn't that. And she knows I love her. I can't understand it. I haven't been carrying on, and I know there isn't another man for her. I told her I wouldn't go out so much, if that upset her. She just said it wouldn't make any difference."

"I persuaded her to wait a month before she left for Reno. She wouldn't stay with me, but a couple of times I saw her. She was perfectly nice, the same as always, but she wouldn't unbend. When the month was up she still wanted the divorce. Well, I couldn't make it tough for her after that. I asked her what grounds she wanted to use, and she said 'ugliness.' I guess that was a joke—the legal grounds are mental cruelty or something, the usual thing."

I could guess what had happened, but there was no point in giving Jack my opinion. He was miserable enough, and he would never be able to understand Ellie's feelings about being called "Funny Face."

Sen. Thomas Beaten in Oklahoma

Oklahoma City, July 26 (AP)—Rep. Mike Monroney walloped Sen. Elmer Thomas by more than 24,000 votes yesterday in Oklahoma's bitter battle for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination.

The resounding defeat may have ended the political career of the white-haired Thomas, who is 73 years old and considered unlikely to attempt a comeback at a later date.

While the 48-year-old Monroney walked off with his party's senatorial nod in the runoff primary, the Democratic governors contest developed into such a tight affair that guards were ordered on all state ballot boxes.

With only 73 of the state's 3,788 saying that any of the charges had been proved.

"The Lodge report leads me to believe the Senator McCarthy has not substantiated his charges," Morse declared.

precincts unreported in unofficial returns, Johnston Murray — son of a former governor — had 232,512 votes to 231,772 for William O. Coe. A recount was a distinct possibility, although neither side would comment.

Joe O. Ferguson won the Republican nomination for governor in the July 4 primary.

In the senate race, returns from 3,710 precincts gave Monroney 235,223 votes and Thomas 210,634.

The lanky, graying Monroney handed Thomas, chairman of the state agriculture committee and military appropriations subcommittee, a second defeat in a political career that spans 43 years.

He learned of his victory while enroute back to Oklahoma from Washington by plane. Thomas conceded the election from Washington, wishing Monroney "success in the election in November."

He will oppose the Rev. W. H. Bill Alexander, pastor of Oklahoma City's First Christian church, the Republican nominee.

Alexander, who lapped the vote of three other candidates in the July 4 primary, first announced as a Democratic candidate, then switched to the GOP before the filing date.

Monroney, who has served in the house six terms, increased his lead of the first primary when he topped Thomas by 14,653 votes. Farm parity prices, national defense, rural electrification, and finally, prohibition, were factors in the race. In general terms, Monroney pitched his campaign on rural electrification. Thomas criticized Monroney's record on parity issues. The United Dry association backed Thomas in legally dry Oklahoma.

According to the National Association of Home Builders, the life expectancy of a modern house is about 100 years. The life expectancy of a person is 68 years.
